Independent Auditor's Report

Board of Directors
Hugo Marx & Co., Inc.
Birmingham, Alabama

I have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Hugo Marx & Co., Inc., as of July 31, 2008, and the related statements of stockholders' equity, income, changes in liabilities subordinated to claims of creditors and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Hugo Marx & Co., Inc., as of July 31, 2008, and the results of its operations, changes in liabilities subordinated to claims of creditors and cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

My audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in supplementary schedules, pages twelve and thirteen, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in my opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes To Financial Statements

Hugo Marx & Co., Inc.

July 31, 2008

Note A - Significant Accounting Policies

Organization and Nature of Business: Hugo Marx & Co., Inc., ("the Company") is a registered broker-dealer with the Securities and Exchange Commission and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority. The Company is an Alabama corporation and has offices in Birmingham, Alabama.

The Company's operations consist of buying and selling securities for its customers and its own account and certain underwriting and other brokerage activities.

Cash and Cash Equivalents: The Company considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less, that are not held for sale in the ordinary course of business to be cash equivalents. The Company had no cash equivalents as of July 31, 2008.

Security Transactions: Securities owned are stated at market value. Unrealized gains and losses on the increase or decrease to market value are recognized as incurred. Investment income is recognized as earned.

Securities transactions and the related commission revenue and expenses are recorded on a settlement date basis, generally the third business day following the trade date.

Property and Equipment: Property and equipment are stated at cost. Expenditures for additions and major improvements that significantly extend the useful lives of the assets or increase their productivity are capitalized. Expenditures for repairs and maintenance are charged to expense as incurred.

Assets which are disposed of are removed from the accounts and the resulting gains or losses are recorded in operations.

Depreciation for building and improvements is provided by accelerated methods over 19 and 31.5 year periods. Depreciation for furniture, fixtures and equipment is provided by the straight-line method based on estimated useful lives ranging from five to eight years. For the year ended July 31, 2008, depreciation expense of $2,708 was charged to operations.

Income Taxes: Deferred income taxes result from timing differences which arise from recording certain transactions in different years for income tax reporting purposes than for financial reporting purposes. Differences are expected to reverse in subsequent periods.

Hugo Marx & Co., Inc.

Note A - Significant Accounting Policies - Continued

Fair Values of Financial Instruments: Substantially all of the Company's financial assets and liabilities are carried at market value or at amounts which, because of their short-term nature approximate current fair value. The Company's borrowings, if recalculated based on current interest rates, would not differ significantly from the amounts recorded at July 31, 2008.

Use of Estimates: Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing financial statements. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported revenues and expenses. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note B - Exemption Under SEC Rule 15C3-3

The Company is exempt from Rule 15c3-3 under Section (k)(2)(i) since it maintains a special account for the exclusive benefit of customers. The balance of the special bank account amounted to $981 as of July 31, 2008.

Note C – Note Payable to Bank

Notes payable to bank had a balance of $7,650 outstanding as of July 31, 2008. The note matures on August 15, 2008 with an annual interest at an annual rate of 5.00%. The note is collateralized by municipal obligations.

Note D - Income Taxes

The Company uses the cash basis method of accounting for income tax purposes and the accrual basis method of accounting for financial reporting purposes.

Notes to Financial Statements - Continued

Hugo Marx & Co., Inc.

Note D - Income Taxes - Continued

Income tax expense (benefit) the year ended July 31, 2008 consists of the following:

	Amount
Deferred:
Federal	$ (16,500)
State	(8,500)
Valuation allowance	25,000
Total	$ -0-

The tax effects of temporary differences that give rise to deferred tax assets and liabilities as of July 31, 2008 are as follows:

Deferred tax assets:
Net operating loss carryforwards	$115,000
Valuation allowance	(25,000)
	90,000
Deferred tax liabilities:
Depreciation of property and equipment	800
Cash basis method of accounting	200
	1,000
Net Deferred Tax Asset	$ 91,000

Income tax (benefit) at the maximum federal income tax rate differs from the actual income tax (benefit) primarily due to the use of rates less than the maximum rate and tax-exempt interest income.

At July 31, 2008, the Company has net operating loss carryforwards for Federal and State income tax purposes of approximately $422,000 and $823,000, respectively which expire in varying amounts from 2011 to 2023.

Note E - Net Capital Requirements

As a registered broker-dealer, the Company is subject to the requirements of Rule 15c3-1 (the Net Capital Rule) under the Securities Act of 1934, as amended, which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed fifteen to one (and the rule of the "applicable" exchange also provides that equity capital may not be withdrawn or cash dividends paid if the resulting net capital ratio would exceed ten to one). At July 31, 2008, the Company's aggregate indebtedness and net capital were $6,208 and $641,262, respectively, a ratio of .0114 to 1. Required net capital is $100,000.

Hugo Marx & Co., Inc.

July 31, 2008

Note F - Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company maintains its cash balances with high quality financial institutions. At times such balances may be in excess of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") limit. Accounts at each financial institution are insured by the FDIC up to $100,000.

The Company is engaged in various trading, brokerage and underwriting activities in which counterparties primarily include brokers-dealers, banks and other financial institutions. In the event counterparties do not fulfill their obligations, the Company may be exposed to risk. The risk of default depends on the credit worthiness of the counterparty or issuer of the instrument. It is the Company's policy to review, as necessary, the credit standing of each counterparty.

Note G - Shareholders' Agreement

Upon the death of any stockholder, the remaining stockholder has the option to purchase one share of the deceased stockholder's common stock. This option will expire 150 days after appointment of the deceased stockholder's personal representative. Additionally, certain employees of the Company, including the remaining shareholder, will have an option to purchase the remaining shares owned by the deceased stockholder. This option will expire 180 days after appointment of the personal representative. The Company will be obligated to purchase any remaining shares not purchased during the option periods. The agreement also places restrictions on the sale, assignment, pledge or transfer of the Company's stock by any shareholder.

The purchase price shall be calculated using the book value as of the end of its last fiscal year end preceding the date of a purchase.

Note H - Related Party Transactions

The Company leases office space to several businesses owned or controlled by the Company's stockholders. The lease arrangements are on a month-to-month basis and amount to $3,000 per month as of July 31, 2008. The Company received $36,000 under these arrangements during the year ended July 31, 2008.

To the Board of Directors
Hugo Marx & Co., Inc.
Birmingham, Alabama

In planning and performing my audit of the financial statements of Hugo Marx & Co., Inc. (the Company) for the year ended July 31, 2008, I considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine my auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing my opinion on the consolidated financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), I have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures that I considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17 a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, I did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

My consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, I noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that I consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

I understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on my study, I believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at July 31, 2008, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
